Balance

"Imagine life as a game in which you are juggling five balls in the air. You name them--work, family, health, friends, and spirit--and you're keeping all of them in the air. You will soon understand that work is a rubber ball. If you drop it, it will bounce back. But the other four balls--family, health, friends, and spirit--are made of glass. If you drop any of these, they will be irrevocably scuffed, marked, nicked, damaged -- or shattered. They will never be the same. You must understand that and strive for balance in your life.

His Life Hid in Your Heart

Week 23: I Am... The Light of the World
By Jacob Rutledge

Jacob Rutledge brings us five deep thoughts about Jesus in this week's reading from our Bible study book, "His Life." It's right in the middle of the study on these seven statements John records as part of his coverage of the life of Jesus, all of them starting with the phrase, "I am..." In one of his devotionals, Jacob mentions an article where scientists claim to have recreated the most accurate portrait of Jesus based on all possible evidence. What they fail to capture, however, in their description, is something that can never be captured by those who deny that Jesus really was the Son of God—I don't know that any amount of imagining can give us a clear picture of what deity residing in human form would look like.

So, thankfully, we can look to the terms Jesus uses to describe himself for us. Isaiah reminds us that there wasn't anything about his physical form that would attract anyone to him, so neither Jesus nor his biographers bother to say anything whatsoever about his form or appearance. But what they DO reveal is a portrait of a man overflowing with compassion and intellect, focused on his goal and determined to reach as many people as possible. Like a beacon shining in the darkness, Jesus is... the light.

Read a little each day, and be blessed!
Do it everyday, and change your life!

With Love, Adam
